

Obtaining a Masters in Business Administration (MBA) in Australia is a sound educational choice for both Australian and international students. Australia is home to exceptional business schools that confer internationally recognized MBAs that will provide a solid foundation for your business management career and expand your career opportunities around the world.

With a distinctive international business community and prestigious educational institutions, Australian MBA programs offer a unique opportunity to pursue higher education in a progressive, forward thinking climate that will place you on the cutting edge of global business trends and management strategies.

Below are the top 10 reasons to study your MBA in Australia:

- 1. Australia offers some of the most prestigious, internationally recognized business programs and degrees in the world
- 2. Global business management strategies and an understanding of international business principles will increase your marketability
- 3. Australian MBA programs are generally more affordable than other international options, like the U.S. or UK
- 4. Australian universities offer both part- and full-time MBA programs to fit your schedule
- 5. Students who obtain an Australian MBA significantly increase their earning potential
- 6. An internationally recognized MBA expands your options for where you want to live and work
- 7. Australia offers a unique blend of Western, Eastern and indigenous cultures that have come together to create rich history, art, customs and traditions unlike anywhere else in the world
- 8. Knowledge of international business practices and standards becomes more important each day as even small, local companies and organizations continue to recognize the growing relevance and affects of the global economy

9. Well educated managers with a global view and international business acumen will always be in high demand

10. Australia is one of the most desirable destinations to study as they host some of the most beautiful landscapes in the world.

Australian MBA programs range from 16 months to 3 years in length and provide international students with a solid foundation of knowledge and skills that provide the necessary tools for an effective, successful management career. An international education is an increasingly important asset in today's world where the global economy and international marketplace continue to become progressively more relevant to not only international corporations, but also local business and industry.

Studying in Australia is a once in a lifetime experience that is both personally and professionally enriching. The diverse community is made up of professionals and adventurers from every corner of the world, while the land itself provides a geographical and biological diversity that is unmatched.

These unique characteristics that can only be found in Australia create opportunities to expand your learning far beyond the classroom and to assist you in becoming a global citizen, as well as an effective manager.